WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 12.

ARE THERE MERMAIDS IN THE POTOMAC? -There are three big rocks in the Potomac just above Georgetown called the Three Sisters, after three mythical maidens who perished there in some romantic way centu ries ago. Strange enough, they mark the saddest part of that beautiful stretch of rive er, for it is at that point that boats usually upset and swimmers usually drown. But strangest of all is the fact that on the night before such a death the people living on the shore hear the Three Sisters softly mosning -a sound distinct from every other and never heard save on such occasions. Wednesday night, for example, just as the Georgetown college clock struck 12, the moning sounds came floating ashore from the Three Sisters, and on Thursday noon a shell capsized as it passed them and its owner was drowned. Strange, but true. - Wash Letter in Phil, Record.

VENUS VISIBLE BY DAYLIGHT .- Venus now rises in the northeast about half past 2 o'clock in the morning and can thus be well observed with the telescope for an hour or more before sunrise. Before twilight dawns she gives light enough to cast a shadow. Of course, the rising of the sun only obliterates the planet in part. If the skies are very clear sharp eyes will be able to follow her all through the day, and until toward 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when she will set in the northwest. The best time of day to look for the planet of love is now about 9 o'clock in the forenoon.

THE GAZETTE, chronologically, is in the NINETIETH year of its existence, and is not only the oldest paper in the State, but, with few exceptions, in the country.

Notwithstanding the fulness of its years, it has kept, and will continue to keep, abreast of the times in all that pertains to a NEWS paper, furnishing its readers daily with a All Kinds of Book and Joh Printing perfect mirror of passing events, domestic and foreign.

> Its facilities. for obtaining news as they increase are taken advantage of and used for the benefit of its readers, who are thus kept thoroughly posted as to all that is of interest politically, socially, financially or commercially.

Special attention is given to matters concerning the State and its welfare, while its local columns contain all that is of the slightest interest to Alexandrians.

Its regular correspondence from Washington and Richmond are features of peculiar interest, as attested by the eagerness with which they are read and copied by other papers, while its editorial department, conducted with reference to the best interests of the city, State and country, will continue to advocate what is believed to be right, just, honest and patriotic.

With a view to the interest of merchants, farmers and all interested, its commercial columns are carefully edited and its market reports are acknowledged by all to be faithful and accurate.

Through all this section of the State, and in all parts of the country where Virginians have located, there will the GAZETTE generally be found, and thus as an advertising medium it has few equals outside the large cities.

In the household, counting room and workshop it is an ever-welcome visitor, acceptable alike to old and young, the grave and the gay.
